Prerequisite	FILM 2121 Film History I

Course Description:

Following up on Part I, Film History II aims to provide a general mapping of main figures, movements, and trends within global filmmaking from 1960 to the present. It focuses on major historical developments, influential movements, and significant individual films. Students will explore the evolution of film as an art form and a cultural medium, examining how global cinema has responded to social, political, and technological changes. The course will emphasize critical analysis of films, with attention to their formal, thematic, and historical contexts.

Course Goals:

Students who successfully complete this course will demonstrate competency in the following general education core goals:

- Critical thinking skills – Students will engage in creative and/or innovative thinking, and/or inquiry, analysis, evaluation, synthesis of information, organizing concepts, and constructing solutions.
- Communication skills – Students will demonstrate effective written, oral, and visual communication.
- Teamwork – Students will demonstrate the ability to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal and consider different points of view.
- Social responsibility – Students will demonstrate intercultural competency and civic knowledge by engaging effectively in local, regional, national, and global communities.

Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- recognize the contributions of key filmmakers, movements, and innovations in modern and contemporary cinema;

- enhance their ability to communicate ideas about film through written and oral presentations;
- form and articulate a critical analysis and evaluation of a cinematic work.

Textbooks/Supplies/Materials/Equipment/ Technology or Technical Requirements:

David Bordwell and Kristin Thompson, Film History: An Introduction, 3rd ed., McGraw Hill, 2010.

Course Requirements:

Participation and Attendance (10%)

Active participation is essential to fostering an engaging learning environment. Students are expected to attend all classes, contribute thoughtfully to discussions, and engage with course materials. Participation includes in-class discussions, film screenings, and group activities. Absences without valid justification may result in a deduction from the participation grade.

Periodic Reading Quizzes (15%)

To ensure students remain engaged with the course material, periodic quizzes will assess comprehension of assigned readings. These quizzes will consist of multiple-choice, short-answer, and/or analytical questions. Quizzes will be administered at the beginning of class and cannot be made up unless prior arrangements are made in case of documented emergencies.

Film Analysis Papers (2) – 30% (15% each)

Students will submit two analytical essays, each focusing on a specific film or thematic aspect discussed in class. These papers should demonstrate a critical understanding of film history, style, and theory while engaging with relevant course readings. Papers must be well-organized, properly formatted, and include scholarly references. Detailed assignment guidelines and grading rubrics will be provided.

Midterm Exam (20%)

The midterm exam will assess students' understanding of key historical developments, cinematic movements, and theoretical concepts covered in the first half of the course. The exam may include a combination of identification terms, short essays, and comparative analysis. A study guide will be provided in advance to help students prepare.

Final Project/Presentation (25%)

For the final assessment, students will complete a research-based project or presentation that critically engages with a film, filmmaker, or cinematic movement relevant to the course. This project may take the form of a written research paper, a multimedia presentation, or a creative analysis incorporating visual or digital elements. Students must submit a project proposal for approval, and final presentations will be shared during the last week of class.

Assessments: Activity	Percent Contribution

Accommodation Statement

Academic accommodations may be made for any student who notifies the instructor of the need for an accommodation. It is imperative that you take the initiative to bring such needs to the instructor's attention, as he/she is not legally permitted to inquire. Students who may require assistance in emergency evacuations should contact the instructor as to the most appropriate procedures to follow.

Academic Integrity Statement

Each student is expected to maintain the highest standards of honesty and integrity in academic and professional matters. The University reserves the right to take disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal, against any student who is found guilty of academic dishonesty or otherwise fails to meet the standards. Any student judged to have engaged in academic dishonesty in coursework may receive a reduced or failing grade for the work in question and/or for the course.

Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, dishonesty in quizzes, tests, or assignments; claiming credit for work not done or done by others; hindering the academic work of other students; misrepresenting academic or professional qualifications within or without the University; and nondisclosure or misrepresentation in filling out applications or other University records.

Other Items:

Attendance and Expectations

All students are required to attend every class, except in cases of illness, serious family concerns, or other major problems. We expect that students will arrive on time, be prepared to listen and participate as appropriate, and stay for the duration of a meeting rather than drift in or out casually. In short, we anticipate that students will show professors and fellow students maximum consideration by minimizing the disturbances that cause interruptions in the learning process. This means that punctuality is a must, that cellular phones be turned off, and that courtesy is the guiding principle in all exchanges among students and faculty. You will be responsible for the materials and ideas presented in the lecture.

Assignment Due Dates

All written assignments must be turned in at the time specified. Late assignments will not be accepted unless prior information has been obtained from the instructor. If you believe you have extenuating circumstances, please contact the instructor as soon as possible.

Make-Up Work

The instructor will not provide students with class information or make-up assignments/quizzes/exams missed due to an unexcused absence. Absences will be excused and assignments/quizzes/exams may be made up only with written documentation of an authorized absence. Every effort should be made to avoid scheduling appointments during class. An excused student is responsible for requesting any missed information from the instructor and setting up any necessary appointments outside of class.

Access, Special Needs and Disabilities

Please notify the instructor at the start of the semester if you have any documented disabilities, a medical issue, or any special circumstances that require attention, and the school will be happy to assist.
