Course Description:

This course is designed to enable a deeper understanding of the causes, dimensions, and consequences of social inequality in the United States and in the global context. The course is divided into two sections: the first section will examine various theoretical perspectives on social inequality. In the second section, we will explore multiple dimensions of social inequality, including wealth and income inequality, racial and gender inequality, educational inequality, health inequality, and the intersection of class, race/ethnicity, and gender in producing unequal outcomes.

Course Goals:

Students who successfully complete this course will demonstrate competency in the following general education core goals:

- Critical thinking skills – Students will engage in creative and/or innovative thinking, and/or inquiry, analysis, evaluation, synthesis of information, organizing concepts, and constructing solutions.
- Communication skills – Students will demonstrate effective written, oral, and visual communication.
- Teamwork – Students will demonstrate the ability to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal and consider different points of view.
- Social responsibility – Students will demonstrate intercultural competency and civic knowledge by engaging effectively in local, regional, national, and global communities.

Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- critically analyze inequality from a sociological perspective focusing on the structural contexts that create and reproduce it;

- understand the specific dimensions of social inequality involving class, race/ethnicity, gender, and their intersections;
- evaluate everyday lived experiences through insights provided by various theories of social inequality.

Textbooks/Supplies/Materials/Equipment/ Technology or Technical Requirements:

Course Requirements:

Participation

We aim to foster an atmosphere of participation given that discussion among peers is, by far, the best way to learn the contents of this course. If you participate fairly regularly in class, you will be able to obtain a perfect mark in this section.

Quizzes

Short quizzes will be administered randomly throughout the term, typically during the first 15 minutes of class. Each quiz will assess material from the assigned readings and lectures of the week, and other course materials. Quizzes may include multiple question formats, such as multiple-choice, short answer, and other brief response types.

Final Paper

The final assignment will be a final research paper on a topic discussed during the course. This paper will be between 1800 and 2000 words.

Book Presentation

In the last week of the semester, you and your group will deliver a 20-minute presentation summarizing your book and the important social processes going on in it that generate or maintain inequality.

Take-Home Exam

For the take-home exam, you will write 2-3 short reflective essays that synthesize and apply material and discussions covered in class along with the required readings. The take-home exam will test your comprehension and application of class material. As this is a take-home exam, you can refer to your book, lecture slides, and class notes while answering them. However, this means that the bar is set much higher, and I expect your essays to be high quality. Please proofread your exam essays before submitting them. I will consider grammatical and spelling errors while grading your exam.

Accommodation Statement:

Academic accommodations may be made for any student who notifies the instructor of the need for an accommodation. It is imperative that you take the initiative to bring such needs to the instructor's attention, as he/she is not legally permitted to inquire. Students who may require assistance in emergency evacuations should contact the instructor as to the most appropriate procedures to follow.

Academic Integrity Statement

Each student is expected to maintain the highest standards of honesty and integrity in academic and professional matters. The University reserves the right to take disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal, against any student who is found guilty of academic dishonesty or otherwise fails to meet the standards. Any student judged to have engaged in academic dishonesty in coursework may receive a reduced or failing grade for the work in question and/or for the course.

Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, dishonesty in quizzes, tests, or assignments; claiming credit for work not done or done by others; hindering the academic work of other students; misrepresenting academic or professional qualifications within or without the University; and nondisclosure or misrepresentation in filling out applications or other University records.

Other Items:

Attendance and Expectations

All students are required to attend every class, except in cases of illness, serious family concerns, or other major problems. We expect that students will arrive on time, be prepared to listen and participate as appropriate, and stay for the duration of a meeting rather than drift in or out casually. In short, we anticipate that students will show professors and fellow students maximum consideration by minimizing the disturbances that cause interruptions in the learning process. This means that punctuality is a must, that cellular phones be turned off, and that courtesy is the guiding principle in all exchanges among students and faculty. You will be responsible for the materials and ideas presented in the lecture.

Assignment Due Dates

All written assignments must be turned in at the time specified. Late assignments will not be accepted unless prior information has been obtained from the instructor. If you believe you have extenuating circumstances, please contact the instructor as soon as possible.

Make-Up Work

The instructor will not provide students with class information or make-up assignments/quizzes/exams missed due to an unexcused absence. Absences will be excused and assignments/quizzes/exams may be made up only with written documentation of an authorized absence. Every effort should be made to avoid scheduling appointments during class. An excused student is responsible for requesting any missed information from the instructor and setting up any necessary appointments outside of class.

Access, Special Needs and Disabilities

Please notify the instructor at the start of the semester if you have any documented disabilities, a medical issue, or any special circumstances that require attention, and the school will be happy to assist.
